

TERRY HOOD

Resident of Newport since: 2021

Professional Background: I am a United States Navy Veteran born and raised in Houston. I have lived in the Humble and Crosby area for over 10 years. I am the Corporate Quality Director for a large multi-industry company in Houston. I have a Bachelors Degree in Business Management. Previously I worked for nine years at NASA on the International Space Station Program and the Space Shuttle return to flight programs. I have published and written several Mil-Specs, American Petroleum Institute (API) specifications and currently sit as the Chairman of the API 20P committee. I have also authored numerous NASA handbooks and manuals.

Community Organization you have belonged to as well as any past accomplishments: My wife is also a Navy veteran and we are both members of the American Legion. I have graduated from the Humble Citizens Police Academy for the purpose of helping to establish a Neighborhood Watch here in Newport. We both volunteer with the VA to support our fellow Veterans as needed.

Why would you like to be a Director of the New Property Owners Association of Newport? Please include any unique qualities or characteristics you would bring to this position: I think there is a lack of real-world common sense with the way the current board functions. There is the perception of an out of touch approach to the way items are detailed within the deed restrictions for the multiple areas within Newport and there is a better way to manage these often times conflicting restrictions and the way they are enforced. There is also an issue with the way items are communicated to the neighborhood. I have an engineering background as well as an extensive level of experience in technical writing and procedure development. Words mean things and a more common-sense approach will go a long way in adding value to the community.
